iONE CRUISER

New generation diagnostic device designed to work with all types of vehicles and communication protocols with the various ECUs.

iONE CRUISER stands out because of its communication and calculation speed, flexibility and modularity. These features combined with the new software platform allow the technician to work simultaneously on several control units and work environments, performing encodings, adjustments and activations immediately.

Powered internally by a SuperCap, it does not require a battery, guaranteeing a long-lasting service life compared to common devices. Its design and ergonomics help it to stand out from the rest.

iONE CRUISER transforms working standards, making the diagnosis simple, intuitive and accessible to everyone everywhere!

New, Intelligent, Fast vehicle communication interface compatible for every kind of vehicle

Improve performances and increase diagnosis operations speed

Flexible and Modular architecture Sw/Hw to allow:

- Implement fastly the automotive technology evolution
- To be ready for the future connectivity solution
- Agile development and release of new diagnosis system

Independent from PC performance
